The 40-point HVAC online scorecard

Website, Google profile, reviews and follow-up. Print it, check yes or no, add up your score.

HVAC Marketing HQ
hvacmarketinghq.com

Website: speed and phone

1	The home page shows something useful within about 2.5 seconds on your phone's mobile data.	Yes	No
2	Your phone number is a tap-to-call button at the top of every page.	Yes	No
3	Nothing covers the screen when a page opens: no pop-up, no full-screen chat.	Yes	No
4	Text is readable without zooming, and buttons are easy to hit with a thumb.	Yes	No
5	The site scores in the green on Google's PageSpeed Insights for mobile.	Yes	No

Website: getting found

6	A separate page for each service you want more of: AC repair, heating, installs, maintenance plans.	Yes	No
7	A real page for each town you take calls in, not the same page with the name swapped.	Yes	No
8	Each page title says what and where, like "AC Repair in Dallas, TX | Your Shop".	Yes	No
9	Business name, address and phone on the site match your Google profile exactly.	Yes	No
10	Your Google profile links to your site, and your site links back to your profile.	Yes	No

Website: turning visits into calls

11	The first screen says what you do, where, and how to reach you, in one short line.	Yes	No
12	There's a way to book or request service without calling.	Yes	No
13	Forms are short: name, phone, what's wrong. Four fields or fewer.	Yes	No
14	Form fills get an answer within minutes, including after hours.	Yes	No
15	Financing, if you offer it, sits on the install and replacement pages.	Yes	No

Website: trust and tracking

16	Real photos of your crew, trucks and work. No stock photos.	Yes	No
17	Your real Google reviews on the page, ideally from the same town and service.	Yes	No
18	Your contractor license number in the footer.	Yes	No
19	You can see how many calls and forms came from the site each month.	Yes	No
20	Someone updates the site when hours, services or prices change.	Yes	No

Google Business Profile

21	The profile is verified, and you own it, not a past agency or employee.	Yes	No
22	Primary category is HVAC contractor or the closest fit, with secondary categories for the services you want.	Yes	No
23	The business name is your real name, with no keywords added.	Yes	No
24	The service area lists the towns you really serve.	Yes	No
25	Hours are right, including after-hours or emergency hours if you take those calls.	Yes	No
26	Every service you offer is listed, with a short description.	Yes	No
27	At least 10 real photos of your crew, trucks and installs, with new ones each month.	Yes	No
28	A post in the last 30 days: a tune-up reminder, a recent job or a seasonal offer.	Yes	No
29	The website link goes to your site, tagged so you can see the calls it sends.	Yes	No
30	The phone number is one your office or your text-back system always answers.	Yes	No

Reviews

31	Every customer gets asked, after every job. No picking only the happy ones.	Yes	No
32	The ask goes out by text within a few hours of the job, with a direct link.	Yes	No
33	Every review gets a reply, good or bad, within a few days.	Yes	No
34	Replies mention the service and town in plain words.	Yes	No
35	You know your rating and review count against the top three shops on the map near you.	Yes	No

Follow-up

36	Every missed call gets a text back within minutes, including nights and weekends.	Yes	No
37	Every estimate gets at least three follow-ups before it's marked lost.	Yes	No
38	Past customers get a spring AC and a fall heating tune-up reminder.	Yes	No
39	Maintenance plan members get a renewal reminder before the plan lapses.	Yes	No
40	One place shows calls, texts, booked jobs and reviews, so you know what's working.	Yes	No

Your score: _____ / 40

35 to 40	Strong. Keep it up and keep adding reviews.
25 to 34	Leaking calls. Fix the no's under speed and follow-up first.
Under 25	Costing you jobs every week. Start with speed, tap-to-call and missed-call text-back.

Want this checked for you? Get a free report card at hvacmarketinghq.com/report-card: your Google profile, reviews, website and listings graded against the shops near you.